REST IN PEACE, LAST NOT-RACIST CLASS & CHARTER DAY

List of groups shat on by puritanical faculty: African-Americans, Veterans, the American Worker, Thinking People

REVENGE OF THE OLDS DEPT.
(A SERIOUS PLACE THE DUEL DOESN’T OFTEN GO) For those unaware, this will be the last C&C Day held on a Friday after the majority of the faculty decided to murder this wonderful tradition in lieu of dealing with their crumbling marriages, disappointing children, and boring, unfulfilling lives.

Through sleazy maneuvering of voting methods and a loose definition of ‘quorum’, a dedicated cabal of rapidly dying People of Tenure managed to impose their vision of a C&C as impotent as they are by moving the ceremony and celebration to Monday. Their excuse, seriously, was Martin Luther King Jr., proving that you can build a Cultural

“Are you fucking kidding?”

Educational Center, but you can’t convince white people to remove their heads from their begging-for-Botox asses.

“We took this action purely to honor MLK,” Prof. O’Brien lied through his teeth. “It is in no way a disrespectful and tasteless way to cover a minority’s growing contempt for student revelry. I can feed you feeble excuses about NESCAC pressure and New York State law if it would make you feel better. There just wasn’t any celebration of MLK before this.”

“BULLSHIT!” all students and teachers who actually care about People of Color instead of treating them as a convenient sideshow (or admissions brochure) yelled in unison. “For over a decade, students have organized community service outings, sold out plays performed in honor of the man’s legacy, and taken time to discuss his impact and beliefs, all while the same faculty who passed this ‘reform’ bitterly complained about other issues and didn’t care about him.”

Faced with these facts, Prof. O’Brien muttered that it was too bad and maybe kids shouldn’t cling so bitterly to their one day of bacchanalia a year and that their concerns aren’t legitimate.

“Actually, we have a great deal of legitimate concerns,” Composite Dedicated-Student ’14 replied. “This short-sighted change will pervert the finals schedule. It will severely disadvantage students with working parents who are unable to take off during the work week, needlessly complicate move-out, and make it more difficult for all students to study during the bifurcated and ludicrous new ‘reading period.’”

“Furthermore, why celebrate MLK day but ignore Veteran’s Day and Labor Day? Why don’t the millions who have died at the hands of the rich and powerful matter?” wondered someone who actually cares.

“Because they didn’t serve our selfish, racist, disrespectful ends,” O’Brien admitted.

Most students were not fazed by the decision because of the twin swords of apathy and the fact that this is just a challenge to drink Friday, Saturday, Sunday, and Monday. Blow us, you old fucks.

Sincerely,
The Duel
